FISH LAKE MERGER RIG ON GROUND

The Fish Lake Merger Oil company is doing everything it has promised its stockholders and intended buyers. The drill and machinery that will make Nevada famous are now on the ground and being installed. The foundation timbers, 16x16, were put in place yesterday, and the heavy machinery, 65 tons, is being set upon these heavy sills. The derrick is 85 feet high, and is now in course of construction, and before 20 days the drill will be going down and it is believed by geologists who have reported on the holdings of the Fish Lake Merger company that oil will be struck around the 1000-foot depth. The men who are to operate the Standard rig are all practical oil drill operators who have had years of experience, and it is a 100 to 1 bet that no drill will be lost in this well, for it is as put down in a double quick time.

Meers Taylor, Foster, Burns and Richardson have put their money in the venture the same as you and I have, by paying 5 cents a share for 25 stock. If you have never taken a chance in your life to increase your wealth, now is the time to do it. There is a chance to take that chance. There is oil at Fish Lake and the Fish Lake Merger Oil company is to be the first company to prove it. This company will also be awarded the $25,000 bonus paid by the state of Nevada for the first well that produces 25 barrels of commercial oil for six consecutive days. Intended purchasers of stock should do their buying now. In a day or two the price is liable to advance to 10 cents a share. Think it over today and tonight place your order. Don't be one of those who will say, "I could have made myself wealthy if I had bought a few thousand shares of Merger stock, but I didn't do it when I had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor."

As soon as the rig is up and ready to spin in it is proposed to hold a barbecue at the well. There will be plenty to eat, near beer, and a canvas door upon which to dance. This is to be some day for the people of southern Nevada, and in fact, the people of the Pacific coast are invited to swell the throng at the barbecue festivities. This will be the day of all days in southern Nevada.

WILL ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON

Tomorrow Mrs. I. Tamm will entertain at luncheon the members of the local order of Eastern Star and will have as guest of honor Mrs. Belle Park, grand matron of Nevada.

HEARINGS IN STATE BANK CASE CONTINUE

Mr. and Mrs. Tamm asked questions about the market value of the buildings at that time. He also took up such items as traveling expenses listed in the reports, sewer service and elevator power charges against the Tonopah property.

The question of compensation to the receiver will be taken up last. This will be the one legal battle before the court, the attorneys for the state and depositors objecting to the amounts drawn by the receiver and will contest any further allowance.

Witnesses' attorneys on the other hand, will insist that he be paid his allowance as set forth in law before his discharge. Whites has stated repeatedly since the hearing opened that he would welcome such a settlement that he might retire from the receivership.

At the same time he has advised that the properties of the bank be held intact until other matters are settled, as the rentals will sustain the expenses and there is a chance to turn in several mining properties that will be beneficial to the depositors.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE PENALTY" AT THE BUTLER TODAY

How would you feel if you recovered consciousness on the operating table in a hospital to find that the surgeon had cut off both your legs—by mistake? You can imagine the horror of it. But what would you do? In "The Penalty," the film masterpiece that will be shown at the Butler today, this question is answered in a way you'll never forget.

The boy knew the surgeon had made a mistake. He knew he was doomed to go through life on a pair of stumps, so he decided to avenge himself not only upon the surgeon, but upon the entire world. As "Billie," master criminal of San Francisco underworld, he became a danger to be dreaded a monster with half a body and half a soul. He lives in an alley on the Barbary Coast, San Francisco, where he is laying a cunning trap to ensnare the daughter of Dr. Derris, who is a great surgeon, and whom Billie knows as the man who cut off his legs. Such is the leading character in Governor Morrill's great story, "The Penalty."

Tomorrow and Wednesday, Charlie Chaplin's first silent picture, "The Kid," which is at this time creating a sensation all over the United States.

NYE COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Charles Fiske Singletary, who died in California, will be remembered by the pioneer citizens of Belmont as a pioneer miner of Nevada. He was at one time treasurer of Nye county, Nevada, and was clerk of Santa Clara county for two terms.

During his business career he made and lost several fortunes, but was undaunted in spirit. He was the discoverer of the Eldorado South mine, built and owned the first brick hotel in Austin, Nevada, and erected the first sawmill near Belmont, Nevada. Mr. Singletary was very prominent in Masonic circles.

EASTERN STARS ARE ENTERTAINED

A luncheon was given at the residence of Mrs. Sanford Oatlin today to past matrons of Tarquise chapter No. 10, E. O. S. of Tonopah. The guest of honor was Mrs. Belle Park, of Las Vegas, worthy grand matron of Nevada, who is in Tonopah to pay her official visit to the local chapter tomorrow night.

LETSON BALLIET'S VIEWS ON MINING

It has been frequently said that I was paid more than the usual salary. It was merely because the man who paid me and I ever when satisfied with their conditions and pay, and I paid them what they earned, and not merely for their time.

I do not intend, therefore, to enter into any argument on the wage controversy. Every worker is a salesman selling either his time or his capacity, and every manager is a buyer of time or capacity, and capacity doesn't mean strenuous over-exertion for a short time—it means steady, normal ability without over-exertion or undue fatigue. Last motion and lost time cost just as much as those that are habitually good, and they are just as far going and more disheartening, and it's my fault if I tire out and dishearten my workers.

Therefore, I expect no trouble with labor, and when I get ready I expect the same hearty good will of my men that I have always had, either as an adviser. Nor shall I attempt to influence any others in their business. I have plenty to do to attend to my own.

NOTICE EASTERN STAR MEMBERS

The grand matron, Mary Belle Park, and worthy grand patron, Gordon Jonsson, of Goldfield, make their official visit to Tarquise chapter No. 10, E. O. S. of Nevada, tomorrow Tuesday evening, April 26, 1921. A dinner will be served promptly at 6 p. m. at Masonic hall previous to the regular meeting. An invitation is extended to all members and visiting members to be present.
